in superior testing performance

Quality Club is an assessment program that monitors laboratory performance. Through a system of monthly reports, participating labs can evaluate their testing procedures to help maintain reliable, accurate test results.

Members of Quality Club are part of the world's largest allergy testing community; a community committed to monitoring and maintaining high quality testing performance. With a membership of over 680 laboratories in more than 30 countries, Quality Club helps set the international standard for diagnostic testing.

EXCELLENCE IN THE LABORATORY

As a member of Quality Club, you can:

- Assess laboratory performance against the highest quality standards
- Note system errors and calibration problems
- Maintain high accuracy and reliability in test results

Quality Club helps laboratories achieve superior testing performance and gain the confidence of healthcare professionals worldwide.

QUALITY ASSESSMENT MADE EASY

As a member of Quality Club, you will receive a program kit containing reagents and materials for 4 months' use. Each month, simply assay serum from 1 or 2 vials and register the results on Phadia's website. You will then receive:

- Detailed, confidential monthly reports that will help to monitor laboratory performance
- 12-month summary reports to assess long-term performance
- Priority access to local and international support teams that provide direct, hands-on assistance

MEMBERSHIP OF MERIT

Becoming a member of Quality Club is easy and open to all Phadia customers. Simply contact your local Phadia representative or go to the Phadia website to learn more.

Quality Club programs currently available include Specific IgE, Total IgE, ECP, and EliA Autoimmunity.
